

Scientific & Administrative Staff Mobility 2018

What's it about?

Over the last five years, Flinders University and Technische Universität Dresden (TU Dresden) have conducted leading-edge international health and medical research supported by European and/or Australian funding programs, promoted staff and student mobility exchanges and engaged and enabled industry and health workforce partnerships, to support proof of concept projects, local business opportunities and health professional educational opportunities.

To strengthen collaborative relationships between Australian and German research organisations, TU Dresden is now offering financial support to promote ongoing collaborations and shared knowledge between Flinders University and TU Dresden.

To promote collaborative partnerships and joint projects, we are offering financial support for short or long-term stays in Dresden for scientific, professional and cultural exchange.

Financial support will be available for time periods from 15 days up to 6 months.

Who is eligible?

- Flinders University employed academic staff working on diabetes or depression research projects
- Professional staff employed by Flinders who will provide support to promote collaborative partnerships, joint projects between TU Dresden and Flinders University

Possible aims of a proposed stay abroad:

- development of new or continuation of ongoing projects in the field of diabetes or depression
- preparation of applications for third-party funds for joint projects
- Initiation of joint projects within the partnership, e.g. in research support, fundraising, student & staff exchange, etc.
- professional and cultural exchange on administrative level, e.g. via job shadowing

How much funding will I get?

EUR 89 per day for up to 22 days or EUR 2000 per month to cover living expenses plus

EUR 1200 once for travel costs

How to apply:

We are looking forward to your application till 22nd of January 2018. Please submit your application with the following documents via e-mail to felix.klee@tu-dresden.de (see contact below):
